Projects

Vintage Apparel React, Redux, Styled components, Firebase   https://vintage-apparel.netlify.app/
Developed an e-commerce website, using modern web technologies including React for dynamic user interfaces, Styled Components for sleek and responsive design, and Firebase for seamless authentication, real-time database management, and secure transactions. The project offers a user-friendly shopping experience with a wide selection of items for everyone.

FaceRec React, Node.js, Express, Knex.js, Postgres   https://facerec-pyvz.onrender.com/
Full-stack application that leverages the power of Node.js, Express, PostgreSQL, React, and Clarifai's advanced face detection model. Users can easily upload images, allowing the application to detect faces within photos. With the ability to track and manage entries through a robust backend, FaceRec offers a seamless and intuitive solution for harnessing the capabilities of face recognition technology.

Techpro Autoglass JavaScript, SCSS   https://bktpp.github.io/techpro-autoglass/
Here is webpage I've built for TechPro AutoGlass, utilizing HTML, Sass, and JavaScript. This project demonstrates my ability to construct responsive webpages that are user-friendly and visually appealing. Through the use of Sass, I've created a streamlined and efficient design process, while JavaScript has allowed me to implement dynamic features, enhancing the overall user experience.

Apple.com clone HTML, SCSS   https://bktpp.github.io/Apple-clone/
Reconstruction of Apple's homepage, demonstrating my understanding of modern web development and design principles. It's a testament to my skills in responsive design, and the ability to accurately replicate complex websites.
